

Charbonneau Membership Criteria, Responsibilities and Benefits

- Charbonneau draws members from all spheres of cancer research
- Charbonneau researchers may be either Full or Associate Members
- Decisions on Charbonneau membership will be made and approved by the Charbonneau Executive Committee and are subject to periodic review
- Charbonneau Members will exhibit professional behavior and ethical standards in the workplace

Full Members

Eligibility

- A major interest in cancer research (i.e., basic, clinical, health service, population health)
- Academic or clinical appointment at the University of Calgary or Alberta Health Services

Benefits

Full Members:

- Access to facilities and resources of the Institute
- Eligible for research space within Charbonneau
- Access to financial support for research and trainees
- Access to mentorship, career support and grant reviews
- Access to educational programs and support

Expectations and Responsibilities

- A primary interest in cancer research with evidence of ongoing scholarship
- A primary interest in cancer education with evidence of continuing activity
- Contribute towards the research success of Charbonneau through:
 - active research funding support and publications
 - participation in Charbonneau internal grant review
 - mentorship for fellow Charbonneau members
 - participation on Charbonneau committees and working groups
- Contribute towards the education and training success of Charbonneau through:
 - supervision and mentorship of students, fellows and other trainees
 - teaching Charbonneau affiliated courses and programs
- Submit an annual academic report (ARO) to the Cumming School of Medicine
- Permit the Charbonneau Cancer Institute to extract metrics data from ARO
- Acknowledge Charbonneau in publications, abstracts and posters

Associate Members

An academic appointment at a Canadian university; including adjunct, research, and emeritus

Criteria

- An interest in cancer research
- A researcher holding a primary appointment in another Institute or Faculty of the University
- External to the University of Calgary (must be sponsored by a Full Member of Charbonneau)

Benefits and Restrictions

- Receive communications and invitations to seminars, special events and journal clubs
- Eligible for grant review support, mentorship and educational programs
- Ordinarily not eligible for Charbonneau funding, core services, or research space

Membership Review

Applications for membership will be considered throughout the year and continuing membership assessed annually. Recommendations for changes to membership status must be submitted in writing to ccoelho@ucalgary.ca

To apply for membership, contact Carmen Coelho at ccoelho@ucalgary.ca